Guide to Bram Stoker holdings in the Rosenbach Museum & Library
15 February 2019

HISTORICAL NOTE:
The Rosenbach began its Bram Stoker collection in 1970 with the purchase of Stoker’s notes and outline for Dracula. The Rosenbach continues to collect works by and about Stoker and the guide is updated as new material is acquired. Objects acquired since 2014 are marked with a “+”.

SCOPE AND CONTENT
This guide contains only the manuscripts and books written by Bram Stoker in the Rosenbach collections. For source and inspiration material related to Dracula and other vampire literature, please see our Dracula-Vampire guide.

EL3 .S874d MS

Dracula: notes and outline, [ca. 1890-ca. 1896]. ca. 119 l. in case; 29 cm. Summary: Manuscript and typescript notes, photographs, and a newspaper clipping, comprising both background research and an outline for the book. The first section consists of 49 leaves of manuscript: a list of characters, notes on vampires, outlines for the whole book and for most chapters (all 7 chapters for each of books 1-3 and ch.26-27), chronologies, and miscellaneous notes on characters and events. The second section consists of 30 manuscript leaves tipped onto 10 sheets, 2 photographs, and a clipping: reading notes on vampires and werewolves; and shipwrecks, weather, geography, and language in the area of Whitby, North Yorkshire, where part of the story takes place. The last section consists of 37 leaves of typescript notes with manuscript corrections, being reading notes on various works about the history and geography of the Carpathians, dream theory, and tombstones at Whitby.

Provenance note: The Dracula manuscript was sold with other items from Stoker’s library at Sotheby’s on 7 July 1913, when it was purchased by James F. Drake, Inc. It later came into the possession of Charles Scribner’s Sons, who offered it for sale in several catalogs between 1938 and 1947. The next known owner was the firm of Charles Sessler of Philadelphia, from which the Rosenbach purchased it in 1970.
