BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Mercedes de Acosta (1893-1968) was born into an aristocratic Spanish-Cuban New York family, and grew up in the world of New York high society. She married the painter Abram Poole in 1921, but they came to lead separate lives and were divorced in 1935. At various times during her life she was a novelist, a playwright, a poet, and a Hollywood scriptwriter. She was a prominent member of gay society in New York and Hollywood, and became well known for her lesbian relationships with such stars as Marlene Dietrich, Isadora Duncan, and Eva Le Gallienne.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE COLLECTION

Correspondence, manuscripts, clippings, photographs, and memorabilia from Acosta's many years as a writer and socialite. The bulk of the material is correspondence with friends, literary and theatrical associates, and other celebrities. Also present are typescripts and reviews of most of Acosta's writings, including her autobiography Here lies the heart, and various plays and poems; approximately 600 photographs, including snapshots and studio portraits of friends and celebrities, movie stills, photos of stage productions of her works, and a few fragments of motion picture film; and a large number of clippings and other ephemera, the largest group being about Garbo. Manuscripts of several works by other persons are included in the correspondence: three chapters of Isadora Duncan's My life; a revision of Tamara Karsavina's autobiography Theatre Street; an essay on Diaghilev by Stravinsky, translated from French by Acosta; and an autograph page of the score of Stravinsky's Sacre du printemps.

Persons represented include Maude Adams; Eva Bartok; Cecil Beaton; Nadia Boulanger; Marie Doro; Isadora Duncan; Eleanora Duse; Claire, Marquise de Forbin; Greta Garbo; Mary Garden; Malvina Hoffman; Isabel Jeans; Tamara Karsavina; Maria Annunziata "Poppy" Kirk; Marie Laurencin; Eva Le Gallienne; Acosta's sister Rita de Acosta Lydig; Loren MacIver; Sorella Maria; Ona Munson; Irene Rice Pereira; Acosta's husband Abram Poole; Ram Gopal; Natacha Rambova; Igor Stravinsky; Alice B. Toklas; Hope Williams; Stark Young; and Ignacio Zuloaga.

Several plays are present in both English and French versions; some correspondence in French and Italian; some ephemera in French, German, Italian, and Swedish.

ORGANIZATION AND ARRANGEMENT

The collection is not divided into numbered series, but is arranged by type of material as follows:

- Works by Acosta (boxes 1-4) are arranged alphabetically by title. See the title index to locate all versions and translations of a given work.
- Reviews of works by Acosta (boxes 5-6) are arranged alphabetically by the title used on the work.
- A small group of family papers (box 6) is arranged alphabetically by name.
- Correspondence (boxes 7-11) is arranged alphabetically by correspondent, thereunder chronologically; restricted and formerly restricted correspondence (boxes 12-15 and 23) in a separate sequence.
- Manuscripts of works by Isadora Duncan and Tamara Karsavina (box 16)
- Large groups of ephemera are filed under the name of the subject (boxes 6 and 17-18); smaller amounts are also filed with related correspondence.
- Photographs (boxes 19-22; some in box 23) are arranged alphabetically by subject.
- All objects associated with Acosta are cataloged in the objects database (see p. 76). One box of small objects (box 24) is housed in library storage
- Expense book for Jehanne d'Arc, 1924 is housed separately due to size and condition (box 25)

See the name index to locate all correspondence and photos of and ephemera about a given person.

RELATED MATERIALS

The Rosenbach also has a number of books from Acosta's library and some small objects belonging to her. Lists of these will be found at the end of this guide.

ADMINISTRATIVE INFORMATION

Finding Aid Author: Melissa Homestead; revised by Leslie A. Morris and Elizabeth E. Fuller

Provenance: The bulk of the papers were purchased from Mercedes de Acosta in 1960. The Greta Garbo material was a gift from Acosta in the same year.

Access Restrictions: The collection is open for research use. Correspondence with Greta Garbo was sealed until ten years after the deaths of both correspondents (i.e., 15 April 2000) in accordance with the donor agreement, and has since been opened. However, as of May 2021 researchers must still seek permission from the Garbo estate to publish, reproduce this material. The Rosenbach cannot provide scanned images of Garbo materials for offsite researchers.

Correspondence with Marlene Dietrich, Sven Gray, Poppy Kirk, Eva Le Gallienne, and Claire, Marquise de Forbin was sealed until their deaths, in accordance with the purchase agreement, and has since been opened.

Use Restrictions: Copyright in the works of all writers and artists in the collection is the property of their creators or their estates, and their permission is required before publishing or reproducing it. As of 1 August 2012 the Rosenbach longer grants or denies permission to publish or reproduce material from its collections.
